

A-Bomb Blast Test Delayed By 'Failure'

AEC Postpones Exercise on Nevada Desert

LAS VEGAS, NEV.—(AP)—The opening blast of the Atomic Energy Commission's exercise Desert Rock was postponed this morning because of a mechanical failure. The AEC issued this statement in connection with its delay of the blast which was originally scheduled for any time after 7 a. m. Central Standard Time.

"A nuclear detonation scheduled for this morning was postponed because of mechanical fault in a key electrical test circuit between the control point and the tower."

Confirms Tower
It was the first official confirmation that the A-weapon was being detonated from a tower. Estimates on the height of the steel tower range upwards of 75 feet. But an AEC spokesman declined to comment.

"Weather permitted, we have every confidence that the mechanical fault can be fixed in time to hold the test tomorrow," the spokesman said.

However, the official word on resumption of the test will not be available until at least 3 a. m. central standard time tomorrow morning, at which time it is AEC practice to notify the Civil Aeronautics Administration to close off the surrounding area to all planes.

Details Secret
Other details of the start of exercise Desert Rock, the first atomic test to utilize army troops were leaked in secrecy.

The AEC did not indicate whether troops were to be used in the first test.

The little town of Indian Springs, about 35 miles from Yucca Flat, without receiving official notification, was prepared to ride out the blast. Windows were opened and pictures and bric a brac taken down in an attempt to keep damage to a minimum.

Indian Springs received the brunt of the $15,000 damages caused by last winter's five blasts. Those explosions, however, were set off at Frenchman Flat, at least 15 miles closer to the town.

City Not Warned
Las Vegas itself did not take such precautions this time. The AEC in fact did not feel it necessary to issue any warning to Las Vegas residents, such as the adjournment of last Jan. 27 to Feb. 6 to stay away from windows.

This led to speculation that the first detonation in the new series might not be as big as some of the previous blasts.

Exercise Desert Rock, besides its history making initial use of A-weapons in tactical support of ground forces, also was designed to test heat and radiation effects on animals and buildings.

The AEC disclosed that nearly 150 animals including two dozen sheep, a like number of dogs, and 100 rats, have been brought from commission laboratories and placed on the Yucca Flat site.

The AEC said it hoped to get data which might be helpful in treating human casualties in event of enemy atomic action.

Senate May Not Ratify UN Delegates

WASHINGTON—(AP)—With congress near adjournment, both sides in the controversy today virtually wrote off possibility of senate action on the dispute over Ambassador Philip C. Jessup.

And there were indications that shelving of the Jessup appointment to be a United Nations delegate also would pigeonhole President Truman's nomination of nine others to serve as delegates or alternates at the November meeting of the U.N. general assembly in Paris.

Failure of the senate to act would make it possible for Truman to give all 10 recess appointments, which don't require senate approval.

Voting 3 to 2, a senate foreign relations subcommittee yesterday recommended against senate confirmation of Jessup, who is an ambassador-at-large and a top aide to Secretary of State Acheson.

At hearings on his nomination, Jessup was accused of having followed the Communist line. Jessup denied the charge under oath.

The subcommittee also voted 3 to 0 in favor of confirming the nine others Truman nominated for the U.N. session. They included Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt; Warren R. Austin, chief of the U.S. delegates; and Reps. Mansfield (D-Mont) and Vorys (R-Ohio).

Welch Named to City Council by Mayor

Real Estate Man Okayed By Members

Ballard Takes Over As Commissioner of Fire, Police, Safety

L. J. Welch, local realtor and insurance agent, is the new commissioner of public property.

He was appointed at a special council meeting last night by Mayor William Slothower and was unanimously approved by council members.

Welch succeeds Commissioner George Lindquist who resigned from the council because of business interests which indirectly were associated with city affairs.

Ballard Named
And Commissioner C. L. Ballard was appointed by Slothower to fill the vacated post of commissioner of public safety.

Welch, who has been active in civic affairs, is at present a member of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce, on the city planning commission and is secretary of the Lee County Housing authority.

In announcing his appointment, Slothower said that he thought that Welch would be a valuable member of the council. He said that Welch was a young businessman who is interested in civic affairs.

Feels a Duty
After being sworn into office by the mayor, Welch said that when he was first approached by the mayor his first impulse was to refuse the job. "But," he said, "I now feel this is something we should all do if given the chance."

"If we work together, we can have an economical and progressive council," Welch concluded.

Pledged to Program
Ballard pledged himself to continue the program set up by Lindquist for the police and fire departments. And, he told the council, "I may go to Mr. Lindquist to seek advice on various problems from time to time."

"I am also going to step up our present drive on traffic hazards and our safety program. We have come very close to having a couple of fatal accidents recently."

Humorously he added, "I always seem to follow Lindquist around."

Will Freeze Here Tonight, Forecast Says

Old Man Winter will check into Dixon tonight if weather reports can be believed. Freezing temperatures will cause worry to motorists who have not obtained antifreeze and probably will cause most of the remaining leaves to fall.

The mercury is expected to sink to 32 degrees before morning here. Predictions for Saturday call for slightly warmer temperatures with a high of 57 and a low of 40 Saturday night.

Agree on Size of Neutral Zones, Peace Talks May Be Resumed

MUNSAN, KOREA—(AP)—Liaison officers agreed today on the size of neutral zones around Kaesong and Munsan, thus clearing the biggest hurdle in the path to reopening Korean truce talks.

Only two other points remained in dispute. The feeling at this U. N. advance headquarters was that armistice negotiations might be resumed in a few days, ending a two months breakdown.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nickols, U.N. spokesman, cautioned: "Any point, however small, remains a point of contention that will block resumption of armistice talks."

However, he was "cautiously optimistic," and said the "most important" point was cleared up today.

The Reds accepted a U.N. compromise proposal for security zones with a three mile radius around headquarters of the opposing truce teams in Kaesong and Munsan. The Communists had wanted five mile zones, such as surrounded Kaesong when it was the site of negotiations.

The liaison officers promptly tackled the two other questions: (1) Whether to create a security corridor along the road linking

Will Dedicate New Lutheran Corner Stone

The cornerstone for the new St. Paul's Lutheran church will be laid at Peoria avenue and Fifth street at services scheduled for 11:50 a. m. Sunday.

The services will begin at 10:45 a. m. as part of the regular morning service at the church and at 11:45 the choir, pastor and congregation will march in procession to the new site for the cornerstone laying.

Dr. Harmon J. McGuire, Chicago, president of the Illinois Synod, will give the dedicatory address at the old church before the procession.

The present church was built 83 years ago and apparently there was no special cornerstone, according to the Rev. George Curran. The copper box in the cornerstone laid Sunday will contain a Bible, a centennial history of the congregation, its constitution, copies of the official documents for the new building, a list of officers and church leaders, a list of contributors to the building, copies of Sunday school literature and copies of the Synodical paper and the "Lutheran," which is the official weekly paper of the United Lutheran Church in America.

The Rev. Curran said that the public is invited to both the 10:45 a. m. services at the church and the cornerstone laying at 11:50 a. m.

Demos Stall On Tax Bill; Need Support

Admit New Measure Faces Hard Fight; Expect Action Today

WASHINGTON—(AP)—House administration leaders today temporarily sidetracked the $5,691,000,000 tax bill in a tactical move designed to give time for picking up badly needed votes.

A vote on the tax bill still is in prospect some time during the afternoon.

Pay Raise Bills First
After calling the house into session at 10 a. m. (CST)—an hour earlier than usual—to act on the tax bill, the leaders suddenly decided to bring up ahead of it two government pay raise bills and a postal rate increase measure.

This meant a delay of two or three hours in reaching the tax bill—allowing time for absentee members to get back to the capital.

There was some feeling, too, that passage of the pay raise bills would bring additional votes for the tax legislation. The thinking was that members who vote for an additional $650,000,000 payroll outlay will feel bound to support a revenue increase.

Rayburn Confident
Speaker Rayburn, who disclosed the sudden shift in plans, said he

Welch Receives Badge of Office

Borden Will Move Laboratory To Dixon; Will Serve Nation

Products produced in Borden factories throughout the nation will be tested at the Borden plant on Palmyra avenue in Swissville soon.

The company is setting up a referee laboratory and quality control center which will occupy 5,000 square feet of floor space at the local milk processing plant.

At present the laboratory is located in rented office quarters in Chicago. The purpose of moving the laboratory to Dixon is to give it a permanent location.

Products will be constantly tested at the laboratory to make sure that they conform to high Borden company standards. Tests will also make sure that production is within the standards set up by the federal government under the Pure Food and Drug Act.

Eight or nine technicians will move to Dixon from Chicago to operate the laboratory. Tentative date for the laboratory to be set up is Dec. 1.

The Borden plant here currently produces several milk products including a relatively new item, Starlac, a form of powdered milk used extensively in baking.

Dies in Crash

STERLING, (AP)—John H. Fairbanks, 43, of Sterling, was killed yesterday when his car skidded and struck a concrete post near the Rock River country club where he was employed.

Commissioner Prepares for New Job

COMMISSIONER C. L. BALLARD, left, gets acquainted with problems in the Dixon police department with Chief Frank Tyne following Ballard's appointment last night as commissioner of public health and safety. Ballard promised the council and Tyne that he would carry out the program set up when George Lindquist was commissioner.

No Freeze-Ups

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The government today forecast an adequate supply of anti-freeze for motorists this winter despite increased military demands.

The National Production Authority said a survey shows well over 100,000,000 gallons have been produced for the cold season. This is more than two gallons for each vehicle.

Allied Guns Pound Kumsong; Chinese Reds Resist Fiercely

U. S. 8TH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA—(AP)—Allied big guns pounded Kumsong today as tank-supported U. N. infantrymen fought to within two miles of the former Red Bastion on the central front.

Reds stubbornly resisted attacking United Nations troops in almost every fighting sector. Allies failed to take two hills on the western front in day-long battles.

Planes, tanks and infantrymen battled fresh Chinese replacements deeply entrenched in the last major ridge line south of Kumsong. The Reds used heavy mortar and artillery fire in an attempt to slow U. N. infantrymen pushing northward in the seventh day of their central offensive.

But southwest of Kumsong, Allied ground forces captured two hills against "surprisingly light resistance," a briefing officer reported. Fifty-two Chinese were taken prisoner.

Artillery supporting the Kumsong offensive fired 1,000 rounds into the Communist road hub. They concentrated on stores of supplies left there by Reds who appeared to have deserted their former stronghold.

Fiercest resistance was southeast of Kumsong. Air strikes, tank fire and infantry assaults failed to budge Reds clinging to a sharp, high peak overlooking a valley.

A U. S. Eighth army communiqué indicated fighting was easing off somewhat along the front as hopes of renewed truce negotiations continued their heavy tions revived.

Ceilings on Livestock May End As Black Market in Meat Grows

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The belief was growing in some government and trade quarters today that price ceilings will be removed from live beef cattle within a few weeks if congress does not restore slaughter quotas. With adjournment expected tomorrow, congress appeared certain to make no such move.

Those expressing belief the cattle ceiling will come off contend that such a step will be necessary to halt what they called expanding diversion of cattle into the black market. Black markets are slaughter establishments which have been paying more than ceiling prices.

Cats Beef Supplies
This diversion has had the effect of cutting beef production by many large packing plants which refuse to pay above-ceiling prices. Many of these packers are the principal normal source of beef for the army and for consumers who depend upon supplies processed at Chicago and other big meat centers.

Slaughter quotas—which congress abandoned Aug. 1—are designed (1) to restrict competition for supplies of beef animals and hence to minimize the effect of such competition on prices, and

Commissioner Welch Gets Best Wishes

Flowers on His Desk Not From His Wife, Claim

Congratulations continued to pour in today to L. J. Welch upon his appointment last night as the new Dixon city commissioner.

Many local businessmen and Galena avenue "politicians" gathered in the realtor's office at the corner of First street and Galena avenue to wish him success as a council member.

Decorating the counter at the real estate office this morning was a basket of fall flowers sent as a well-wishing gesture by "Slats" Hasselberg.

Not From Wife
And some humorists chided Welch, stating they thought the flowers were probably from his wife.

The 40-year-old new commissioner is not originally a Dixon resident. He came here in 1927 from Sterling and has been a Dixon resident ever since.

Welch was born in Deer Grove in 1912. He was graduated from Sterling Community high school in 1930, and made Sterling his home until he moved to Dixon.

Once Salesman
Before going into the insurance and real estate business, Welch was a salesman. He has traveled in practically every state in the country.

Welch started in the insurance business 20 years ago and in the real estate business 12 years ago. He moved to his present location at the corner of First street and Galena avenue in 1940.

The new commissioner has been active in community affairs previous to his appointment. At present he is a member of the city planning commission, the Lee County Housing Authority and the board of directors of the chamber of commerce.

Headed 4th Festivities
For the past two years Welch has been one of the chairmen in charge of the annual chamber of commerce Fourth of July celebration.

The first president of the Lee County Realtors association, Welch is a member of the education committee of the State Real Estate association.

Loves Horses
Other activities in which Welch participates include the Men's Garden club, of which he is treasurer, the Rock River Trail Riders association, the Knights of Columbus and the Elks.

Welch and his wife, Winifred, have one daughter Ann, who is in the seventh grade at St. Mary's school. The Welches were married in 1932. Like her father, Ann is an enthusiast about horses.

As for his present plans as city commissioner, Welch says he will have to get acquainted with the job before he can set up any definite program.

British Act To Tighten Canal Hold

Move Against Officials in Vast Sudan Area

CAIRO, EGYPT—(AP)—Backed by growing sea, land and air forces, Britain tightened her hold on the strife-ridden Suez canal area today and moved against Egyptian officials in the vast Sudan area south of Egypt.

As British naval guns trained on the Suez, authoritative sources here said the Sudan's governor general, Sir Robert G. Howe, had ordered two top Egyptian officials not to return to their posts there for the time being "on grounds of public order."

Ordered to Khartoum
Local newspapers said the Egyptian government had ordered the officials back to Khartoum.

Britain and Egypt control the Sudan jointly under an 1899 agreement which the Egyptian parliament tore up Monday night at the same time it cancelled the treaty permitting limited British garrisons along the Suez. The British said they would recognize neither one-sided action.

The officials reportedly barred from the Sudan were Brig. Gen. Abdel Fattah Bishari, chief Egyptian staff officer there, and Mohammed Abdul Hadi, controller general of education. They were reported in Cairo.

Troop Dig in
Both British and Egyptian troops were digging in along the Suez canal area.

The British cruiser H.M.S. Gamble arrived last night at Suez. Said at the Mediterranean end of the canal. Other sea forces were expected soon from the Persian gulf, and a contingent of 1,000 parachute troops were alerted in Trieste for a move to the Suez.

A British spokesman said all British naval movements are now considered "operational" and will be kept secret.

Hold Rail Bridge
The British were reported holding a strategic railway bridge three miles west of the canal at Nefisha. The report said the British took over the bridge from the Egyptians three days ago and were stopping all trains, checking passengers.

A British spokesman at Port Said stated that dock laborers had walked out and that customs difficulties were being encountered. He said the labor situation in the canal area itself was good, with only a few laborers out.

FIRST AID for Everybody

III—Artificial Respiration

(This is another of a series of articles, written especially for Central Press Association and this newspaper on first aid, a subject gripping the nation in the light of threatened atomic aggression. The articles are based on the American Red Cross first aid course. First aid principles, applicable to atomic as well as other disasters, are outlined. The Red Cross offers a 22-hour course free which teaches fully the technique of first aid.)

By Central Press

AFTER CHECKING bleeding, the most important step in first aid, in atomic attack or other disaster, is examination of the victim's breathing. He may be having great difficulty, or may not be breathing at all. Here is where artificial respiration comes in.

Today the prone pressure method is recognized by the Red Cross and a number of other agencies as the best means of resuscitation. Two skilled hands remain potent instruments to use if a victim has ceased breathing as a result of atomic or electric shock, or asphyxia by drowning, or other forms of suffocation.

The standard technique of American Red Cross artificial respiration follows:

Lay the victim on his stomach, one arm extended overhead, the other bent at the elbow. Face turned outward and resting on his hand leaving nose and mouth free.

Straddle his thighs with your knees. Place hands on small of back, the little finger touching the lowest rib, thumb and fingers in natural position.

Arms straight, swing forward slowly, stopping just before your arms reach a verticle position, thus placing pressure on the victim for two seconds.

SWING BACKWARD and relax. Repeat the compression and release movement 12 to 15 times a minute. Continue until breathing is restored or a physician declares the patient dead.

While continuing respiration, ask assistance in loosening the clothing about the neck, chest or waist. Keep the patient warm. Give no liquids.

When the victim is revived, keep him lying down. A teaspoonful of aromatic spirits of ammonia or a small glass of water, tea or coffee may be given. If it is necessary to

Persuade Hubby to Take Office Out of Horse-and-Buggy Days

BY DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Want to make a success of your husband?

Then persuade him to take his office out of the horse-and-buggy era and revamp it in the tempo of today.

The usual grim business office, with its uniformly tan walls, inefficient desk and institutional chairs, can give a man a failure complex before he starts the day's work, says Maria Bergson, a small, decorative blonde who designs offices and factories for some of the country's biggest businessmen.

Employs 30
She has a suite of offices of her own on Fifth avenue and employs a staff of 30 skilled architects and designers.

Maria, who looks like an exceptionally pretty social butterfly, has made exhaustive time-and-motion studies on the executive level, and has come up with a lot of somewhat revolutionary ideas on how to make a businessman happy at his work.

She believes an office should look like an office, and not like a Victorian living room. So she designs office easy chairs which induce a man to sit up straight, yet are supremely comfortable, upholstered in masculine tweeds, with clean-cut lines.

Defies Tradition
Her desk does away with the traditional middle drawer and kneehold design, which she contends lead only to clutter and backaches. Adjustable to the likes and habits of each client, it consists of a series of units which may be assembled in an endless variety of ways, but always with the maximum of efficiency.

Her idea is that everything an executive needs to conduct his business should be within arm's reach, available at the flick of a finger, and tailored to his own needs and personality.

Color Studies
Color consultant studies during the war revealed that when color was used in defense factories production immediately increased and absenteeism and accidents were cut down. Says Maria:

"We have made all these endless time-and-motion studies about the efficiency of machines and factories for $50-a-week workers, but until now nobody has bothered to do the same thing with $50,000-a-year executives. The poor dears have had to stumble along using the tools of 100 years ago."

Vetoes Vets' Autos

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Truman has vetoed a bill under which the government would have paid up to $1,600 on the price of an automobile for any World War II or Korean veteran who has lost a leg or an arm, or is blind or nearly so.

In taking this action yesterday, Mr. Truman told the senate he would gladly approve legislation which limited such aid to veterans who have lost use of one or both legs at or above the ankle.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Whoever believes in a God at all, believes in an infinite mystery; and if the existence of God is such an infinite mystery, we can very well expect and afford to have many of His ways mysterious to us.—Ichabod Spencer.

Egypt Can Thank Herself If War Inflames Middle East

Before Egypt declared its intent to abrogate treaties with Britain covering Suez and the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, Egyptian leaders well understood that new Western proposals for a Middle East defense command were in the making.

These proposals now are on the record. Under them, Egypt is asked to join with the United States, Britain, France and Turkey in establishing a defensive bulwark against communism on the great land bridge between Europe and Asia.

British troops guarding the vital Suez Canal would be replaced by Allied forces. Egypt would supply military and air bases, and presumably would be granted substantial military and economic help. It would be elevated to a high status never hitherto attained by an Arab nation in the international sphere.

Despite foreknowledge of this plan, Egypt bluntly told Britain to get out. Since then, the Egyptian parliament has formally abrogated the treaties. And to cap it all, the government has rejected the Allied proposals for a joint defense command.

In none of this behavior are there any discernible elements of statesmanship. Whatever their legitimate national aspirations, the Egyptians need not have embarked on their present inflammatory course.

Many reasons may lie behind their irresponsible conduct. For one, the ruling Wafd Party is said to be declining in popularity. It may have decided to fan the nationalist flames to divert attention from its domestic failures.

The Egyptians may also have thought they had the British trapped. Having just seen Iran's weak and weepy Premier Mossaddegh successfully defy the Lion, they may well have believed they could perform a similar feat.

On the other hand, they may have had no illusions about duplicating Mossaddegh's showing. They may merely be stirring the present furor in the hope of increasing their bargaining power when the moment comes to discuss their role in a Middle East defense set-up.

Whether Egypt may actually gain more for having thus perilously unleashed boiling nationalist emotions is certainly questionable.

But there is no question at all about the determination of Britain, with the full backing of the U. S. and France, to remain in control of the Suez until a new Western force can move in. Neither riots, efforts at economic strangulation or the use of armed force are likely to dislodge the free nations from this bastion at the heart of one of the most crucial links in the world's waterways.

So if the Egyptians felt they would find the British an easy mark, they are doomed to disappointment. Nor are Britain and the United States minded to yield on the issue of future rule of the Sudan. What Egypt is asking is, in effect, that the colonial rule of the British be replaced by the colonial rule of the Egyptians.

Both London and Washington believe the Sudanese should have something to say about their future. Any solution that baldly hands the land over to Egypt does no justice whatsoever to the Sudanese.

Critical days are ahead for the Middle East. If the area should now flare into war, the responsibility will not fall on the British, whatever the shortcomings of their colonial policies. It will rest squarely on the shoulders of demagogic Egyptians who have risked the larger interests of the free world community for their own selfish ends.

Here's to the Yanks

Well, the New York Yankees did it again. The old cry will go up: "Lucky Yankees!" But don't you believe it. When a team wins 18 pennants in 31 years, and 14 out of 18 world series, it has to be more than luck. The Lady doesn't smile that often in one place.

The Yanks don't always have the best pitching or the best hitting. But they usually have superb defensive play, and that helps their pitching and hitting to stretch a long way. Above all, they have team pride, the winning habit and the winning spirit. When the money is down, the Yanks deliver.

It's getting runs that counts, and the Yanks just know how to get more than anybody else. Even the Miracle Giants didn't faze them. They won—and they earned it.

Wise Economy

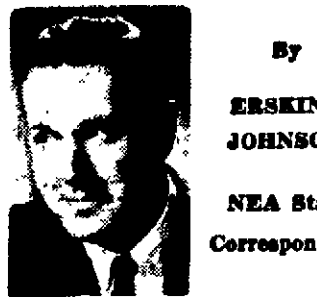

Quietly but effectively the house-senate conferees on this year's military appropriations bill have lopped off $4 billion of the $5 billion extra tacked on by the senate in a vague last-minute maneuver a few weeks ago.

The money was put into the bill as a blank check for the air force, in apparent anticipation of a greatly enlarged air arm. But plans for that expansion have not yet been reduced to specific budget estimates. Thus congress had no way of knowing at this stage how that extra money would be spent.

In slashing the supplementary sum to $1 billion, the conferees acted wisely. The money may eventually have to be voted, but when that time comes, the congress and the American people ought to know—within the limits of security—what it is to go for.

Speed is not the only advantage of the jet-propelled military aircraft. Its ability to climb to high altitude also is important.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE
JOHNSON
NEA Staff
Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD —(NEA)— Behind the Screen: A reconciliation for Barbara Stanwyck and Robert Taylor?

Barbara looked blank when I asked her about the repeated kiss-and-make-up rumors, and said: "There's nothing to them. Every day I read something new about us. You know something—it's even exciting reading for me."

Barbara's just started "Clash By Night," with Bob Ryan and Paul Douglas as her leading men, for Wald-Krasna at RKO. She marries Paul and then discovers she's in love with Ryan.

The studio sent the love triangle plot to the censors for approval. "They demanded only one change," Barbara whispered with a smile. "They said I couldn't smoke in bed."

Television for Barbara? "Everybody says to me, 'Naturally, you've turned down TV.' You know something, no one has ever asked me to be on TV."

PAYTON VETO
Guy Madison and Barbara Payton will make personal appearances with "Drums in the Deep South," but not together. His agent and manager vetoed the idea of Wild Bill Hickok and Wild Barbara Payton taking bows from the same stage.

Buster Crabbe, who has been swimming in a pool of TV greenbacks in New York, will star in a Columbia serial, "King of the Congo."

Bill Henry, with the Pacific fleet, writes that those nervous breakdown rumors started when he was hospitalized for a slight eye injury. He's okay and "never felt better."

It will be Piper Laurie as Frank Sinatra's leading lady in his next UI movie.

Shelley Winters is saying that she'd rather take a suspension.

Hedy Lamarr's medics have warned her to stay out of Mexico for health reasons. Hubby Ted Stauffer is liquidating his tamale-land interests and will go into business in Hollywood.

Betty Hutton's new role of a glamor doll, in "The Greatest Show on Earth" and "Somebody Loves Me," should write finis to the slam-bang, willy-nilly character rut usually ploughed up for her at Paramount.

Even C. B. DeMille is shouting the new Hutton's praises, advising her: "You've stepped up, kid. Don't ever let 'em push you back again."

Betty's reaction to DeMille: "What I learned about acting from that man! He did things to me inside."

GROANER'S LUCK

Wrestler Tiger Joe Marsh, nixing a grappling tour for a role in a Fox movie: "The studio offered me a much better script."

Rosalind Russell's decision to move to New York for a big whirl on TV climaxes two years of film inactivity and a waiting period that almost broke her heart over marriage to Freddie Brissson, by the way, is not on the rocks, as reported, but SOLID.

George Raft is up for a new TV series titled, "The Hooper." About a former vaudeville dancer who becomes a Broadway detective.

Mark down "The Gilda Gray Story" as a movie marquee attraction for 1952. Agent Helen Ainsworth has assigned writers to work on the story treatment with Gilda and is already talking dollars and cents to major studios.

The Kenneth Tobey disappearing act at RKO even has studio insiders puzzled. He clicked as the air force captain in "The Thing," but hasn't appeared in front of a camera since. The studio also is turning down all loan-out offers—four to date.

I wanna-be-in-the-movies dept.: When Samuel Goldwyn's "I Want You" was sneaked in Santa Barbara, a group of gals from a junior college sent in their reactions to the picture. Half of them enclosed their photographs, just in case Sam was interested.

It's just a legend, says Gregory Peck, that he's Hollywood's champ in the I-turn-down-scripts league. "I probably don't turn down as many as Cary Grant or Gary Cooper," Peck told me. "It's just that I try to avoid repeating a role. When I did 'Keys to the Kingdom,' they sent me a barrel of religious scripts."

"After 'Spellbound,' everybody wanted me to play more psychological parts. I got a bunch of tired cowboy scripts after 'The Gunfighter.' Now I'm getting Biblical stories tossed at me. 'King Solomon and the Queen of Sheba.' It hasn't been offered to me and I wouldn't do it. There's no zang to repeating a role."

WESTBROOK PEGLER

Pegler Boosts Indianapolis Reporter for Pulitzer Prize for Welfare Racket Expose.

(Copyright, 1951, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

NEW YORK—Lester Hunt, the reporter for the Indianapolis Star who led that paper's fine campaign which ripped the veil of secrecy away from the "welfare" racket in Indiana, should be a leading nominee for a Pulitzer award this year. However, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch has run up an enormous book of ballyhoo for its relatively petty exploit in "exposing" certain R. F. C. loans, and that probably settles that. Besides, Mr. Hunt's feat runs contrary to the Democratic party's program of Socialism and that disqualifies it as a "public service." No expose of any perfidy by any member of the Roosevelt family can qualify in this category.

In several other states a similar agitation is gaining force to cut down a parasitic growth fostered by the federal security agency. In Detroit, the city auditor reported "irregularities" in more than 70 per cent of the local relief cases. All efforts to expose thievery and cheating by professional mendicants and career-paupers were fiercely resisted by the "relief administrators," who resent any action which would reduce their clientele and the amount of money which they are empowered to squander.

The federal law forbids the states to disclose the names of persons receiving old age assistance and "aid to dependent children." The states customarily pay a share of this expense and the federal government gives "grants in aid" to round out the expenditures, but with the proviso of secrecy. Under Lester Hunt's skillful and persistent hammering, the Indiana legislature passed, over the veto of a Democratic governor, a law revoking the secrecy and thus forfeited the federal "grant in aid." But the Gatlinburg convention of governors voted unanimously in favor of permitting the states to use their own discretion, pointing out that inasmuch as each state pays a contribution into the federal funds the federal government has no right to cut off "grants" out of respect for a rule of secrecy which is wasteful, predatory and conducive to multiple crimes. Congress now undoubtedly will repeal the secrecy provision.

"We will partially compensate ourselves for the denial of federal funds by screening the relief rolls," Mr. Hunt said, "unemployment insurance is not included in this deal, although that is a racket, too. When you give lazy, shiftless people to understand that they can get unemployment pay just by quitting their jobs because they want to lay off on a dole of $20 a week, and let them insist that jobs which are offered to them must be suitable to their talents and desires, you create a dole racket."

"Aid to dependent children was our worst racket. We give $50 a month to the first dependent child in a family and $15 to each other child. A desertion may be just a case of collusion between a couple of bums. Nobody takes the trouble to make sure that the desertion is real or to bring the husband into court and enforce the old sound laws of responsibility. Or a woman may bear several illegitimate children and use them as a legal claim on the taxes of the decent people of the state. She can lie around drunk on the money given her for her children. It is her money and she can do as she pleases with it."

"Many people are dropping off various rolls now because they want to avoid attention. Sons and daughters of old parents who have been living on the public rolls don't want their neighbors to know."

"The Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce and smaller chambers voted to abandon secrecy and pay the whole bill ourselves without federal aid, even though it meant more taxes. Like the Indianapolis Star, they viewed this reform as the last stand against Socialism. If Indiana wins, federal control is shaken and this welfare philosophy is discredited. The outlay has dropped ten per cent already under the threat of publicity. We are tightening up and it will surely drop another 25 per cent. I think we have saved about $5,000,000 in welfare expenditures this year."

"Last year our bill was $43,664,972.76. It had risen steadily from $31,770,562.55 in 1947. About half of the money normally is received from the federal government. The state pays 30 per cent and the counties 20."

"The state welfare department expended only $928,631 in fiscal 1936, when there was no secrecy law, but about ten times as much in fiscal 1937 when a new secrecy law was effective. The cost for 1937 was $9,317,815. The dough was just scattered to the winds."

Don't Let It Get You—Most Women Are Like That

Don't be annoyed when your wife does any of these things: They're just typical of a woman.

When she doesn't notice that you got a new haircut before coming home, but is put out with you because you didn't notice that she is trying out a new hair style.

When you tell a bit of news to a social gathering which you haven't first told her privately. Then she gives you an accusing look and pouts: "Why you never told ME that."

When she explains why she bought something she didn't need by saying earnestly: "It was such a bargain I just couldn't pass it up." Or, "I got it for half-price."

When she gets annoyed with you when you criticize her best friend, even though she often criticizes her.

When she goes to town for a day's shopping and remembers everything—except the one thing you asked her to do for you.

When she asks you how you like a hat or dress and gets huffy if you find any fault with it.

MAMA IS A CLUBWOMAN

When she tells you she just hasn't had time to mend your socks or sew the button on a shirt and in the next breath tells you she has just been made chairman of another committee.

When she asks you what you had for lunch and gives you an accusing look if it happens to be the same thing she is serving you for dinner.

When she waits until you are going through the front door to inform you that she needs some money.

When she tries to shame you into doing more around the house by telling you how much some other husband does.

When she can whip up a delicious family meal with little effort, but always seems to wear herself out getting a meal for invited guests.

When she looks into a well-filled closet and decides she hasn't a thing to wear to Saturday night's party.

Questions and Answers

Q—Why were bonfires a part of the festivities of Twelfthnight, once widely celebrated?

A—In former times, witches were believed to have been peculiarly abundant during the Christmas holidays. It was thought that the odor of burning pine resin did away with evil spirits near and far and that Twelfthnight was the best time for such bonfires.

Q—Is the sap of the Javanese Upas tree a deadly poison?

A—Yes, but its poisonous qualities have been greatly exaggerated. The sap mixed with other substances makes a deadly arrow poison. When the tree is felled or burnt, it gives out noxious fumes.

Q—Is the ancient Greek Parthenon duplicated in this country?

A—At Nashville, Tenn., is the only full-sized replica of the Parthenon, masterpiece of Greek architecture. Even Athens, Greece, is without such a building today.

Q—Is it true that there are no snakes in Ireland?

A—Yes, as far as is known.

Q—What major sport originated in Springfield, Mass?

A—Basketball, in 1891.

In selecting hair shampoo the average woman should remember that she uses it in her eyes, too.

A Texas woman of 30 married a boy of 19—and in just 11 years she'll insist they're the same age.

Police arrested an Ohio man for giving his wife a shiner. She'll be her own perfect eye witness.

Statistics, as well as figures, show that the average woman eats less than the average man.

It's what you do today that pays the real dividends on yesterday's education.

Women almost mobbed a store in a Texas town during a sale of silk stockings. In other words, there was a run.

In a moving picture I saw not long ago, reference was made to yellow fever. I was highly amused when a youngster sitting behind me remarked that she didn't think that she had ever had yellow fever.

Of course, she had had fever, she said, but she didn't think it was yellow. In a way this was highly encouraging conversation because it showed that this youngster had never before heard of yellow fever which in earlier days was one of our most serious killers.

But the almost complete conquest of this dangerous disease carries some lessons as well as being a most interesting story.

Between 1668 and 1821, there were about 20 epidemics of yellow fever in Philadelphia, 25 in New York, eight in Boston and seven in Baltimore. In 1793 an epidemic in Philadelphia took 4,044 lives and 3,900 more in 1803. In 1803 there was an epidemic in New York with 606 deaths.

More recently, yellow fever (or yellowjack) has apparently existed only in South America, Africa and Panama, east of the Canal Zone. This terrible disease has been cast out of our continent because it was learned that it is carried by a mosquito.

Dr. Carlos Finlay of Havana, Cuba, in 1881, was the first to announce the theory that the mosquito spread yellow fever.

By 1900 the Yellow Fever Commission of the United States Army had clinched the case against the mosquito now known as Stegomyia fasciata. This commission was composed of Drs. Walter Reed (the centenary of whose birth has just been celebrated), Carroll, Agamonte, and Lazear. Their studies showed the direct connection between the bite of the mosquito when infected and the development of yellow fever in the person bitten.

MARTYRS TO SCIENCE
In the course of their studies in which they allowed themselves to be bitten, Lazear lost his life from the disease and Carroll suffered a severe attack—both martyrs to science.

Screening of living quarters and active measures to destroy all mosquito breeding places were begun. In less than a year, Major (later General) Gorgas, a sanitary specialist, was able to rid Havana of yellow fever.

He also directed the campaign against yellow fever-bearing mosquitoes in the Panama Canal Zone.

THE DOCTOR SAYS:

Yellowjack, Once Killer, Only a Memory Today

and succeeded in freeing this area by 1905. Now D. D. T. and other insect killers can be used to aid in the battle against yellow fever in South America and other areas which are still in danger.

So They Say

There is always a possibility that we will be selling meat this winter at well below ceiling prices.

—W. S. Shafer, vice president of Armour & Co.

Any statement . . . can be unintentionally misconstrued. Yet it is far better in my judgment to state the truth and risk its distortion than to permit the instigation or perpetuation of groundless suspicion and distrust.

—Carlisle Humelsine, director, State Department's loyalty program.

Even Communists get a better break than we do. They're allowed to meet if they're peaceable, but we can't practice our beliefs.

—William Johnson, Jr., head of a Cincinnati nudist organization.

If ever in history sobriety has been needed in the nation's capital, it is needed now. American diplomacy with whiskey on breath . . . has extended from Washington to our embassies abroad.

—Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin, president, W.C.T.U.

Put it (tinting men's hair) on an economic basis. It two men apply for a job, and they're equally skilled, both 40 years old and one is gray-haired, which would an employer hire? The younger looking man, of course.

—Albert, of Fifth Ave., hair stylist.

Your sister is soon to be married and you would like to entertain for her.

WRONG: Have a shower for her.

RIGHT: Have a luncheon, tea, or evening party, but not a shower, since no member of the family of the bride-to-be should give a shower for her.

Rockford Girl in 'White Satin Gown To Wed Dixonite

St. Bridget's church, Loves Park, Ill., was decorated with white roses and red carnations for the wedding of Josephine F. Mandera, only daughter of the Nicholas Manderas, Rockford, to Jack E. Liston, Dixon. Jack is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Liston, Amboy. Rev. Raymond Gordon officiated at the double ring ceremony, Saturday, Oct. 13, at 2:30 p. m.

White Satin Gown

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in a gown of white satin styled with seed pearls and sequins. The gown had a fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline, tiny white satin covered buttons down the back to the hip line, a hoop skirt of ruffled satin and a Cathedral train. The bride's veil of imported Belgium lace was held in place by an Elizabethan crown outlined with seed pearls and sequins. White "carnations" centered with a white orchid fashioned the bride's bouquet.

Nuptial music preceded the ceremony with Bertha McGuire at the organ. Ray Tracy, soloist, sang, "Mother at Your Feet I'm Kneeling," and "On This Day Oh Beautiful Mother."

Fuchsia and silver brocade fashioned the gowns worn by the bride's attendants. Mrs. Jerry Sciacca, Beloit, Wis., her cousin, as matron of honor and Elizabeth Stadler, Rockford, and Mrs. Lyle Fritchard, Dixon, sister of the bridegroom, bridesmaids. Their strapless gowns were worn with boleros fashioned with a high neckline and the skirts were with hoops. They wore matching mitts and Juliet caps of the same material as their dresses. They carried bouquets of white carnations, mums and pompons.

Brother is Attendant
James Liston, Amboy, was his brother's best man and Lyle Fritchard, Dixon, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was groomsmen. Tony Scarpetta and Franklin Mandera of Rockford, ushered for their cousin, the bride.

A navy blue crepe dress with matching accessories was worn by the bride's mother for the ceremony. Mrs. Anthony Bubrick of Dixon, sister of the bridegroom, wore a dress of black tulle with matching accessories. They both wore purple orchid corsages.

Dinner, Reception, Dance
A wedding dinner was served at "Chicken Charlie's" for the bridal party, close relatives and friends. Reception and dance was held at the Crystal ballroom at the Hotel Nelson, Rockford, where near the end of the evening a grand march was held as the six tiered wedding cake was cut by the newlyweds.

Following a short honeymoon the newlyweds are now at home at 922 Third st., Dixon. They are planning a trip to Colorado in early November. For her going away dress, the bride wore a gray light weight wool trimmed in black velvet with matching accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

"Jo" is a graduate of Muldoon high school, Rockford, and for the past several years has been employed in the office of the Mutual Insurance company. Jack, who is a graduate of Amboy high school, is employed at the Greyhound bus depot, Dixon.

Cummings, Buntan Mendota Wedding Is News in Dixon

A wedding that took place recently in Mendota, Ill., will be of interest to Dixonites as the bride, Miss Nancy Cummings, is a granddaughter of Mrs. Mary Downing, Dixon, and her mother, Mrs. Robert G. Cummings, is the former Mary Louise Downing, Dixon. The daughter of the Robert G. Cummings and Cpl. Lee Buntan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Buntan, Mendota, were wed Oct. 3 at 7:30 o'clock in the evening at the Mendota Methodist church. Rev. J. Drees officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with pams and baskets of white chrysanthemums.

Nuptial selections and the traditional wedding marches were played on the organ by Miss Clara Reul.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Salander, Mendota, brother-in-law and sister of the bridegroom, attended the couple. Keith Hanson, Mendota; Bob Hughes, LaSalle, and Justin Fitzgerald and Ellis Davis of Triumph, ushered.

Earrings Gift of Bridegroom

The bodice was trimmed with lace inserts and had a Peter Pan collar. It was buttoned to the pointed waistline with tiny self covered buttons. The sleeves were long and came to points over the hands. Her fingertip veil of illusion was appliqued with lace and misted from a Juliet cap trimmed with seed pearls. She wore pearl earrings, a gift of the bridegroom, and carried a cascade bouquet of white roses centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Salander wore a floor-length dress of madonna blue taffeta with a matching lace jacket and mitts. Her cascade bouquet was of pink carnations and she wore matching flowers in her hair.

Halloween Party, Parade Plans Completed by Lions Committee

Plans for a parade and entertainment Halloween for Dixon youngsters were made at a meeting Thursday night of Lions club committee chairmen at the home of Russell Flower.

The parade will begin at 7 p.m. Oct. 31, at Madison avenue and First street, according to Walter Knack, general chairman. Children marching in the parade should assemble at Madison avenue at 6:30 p.m.

Band Music

The parade with music furnished by three bands will move from Madison avenue east on First street to Galena avenue, where the judge's stand will be located, then north on Galena avenue to the high school.

Entertainment and the parade are sponsored jointly by the Lions club and Dixon businessmen. The annual parade has cut property damage on Halloween to a minimum, Knack stated.

At the high school, games and other entertainment will be conducted for high school age youths with prizes awarded. An estimated 100 prizes will be awarded for children's costumes in the parade.

Name Judges

Judges for the parade are Mayor William V. Slothower, chairman, Judge Grover Gehant, the Rev. Bliss B. Cartwright, Harry Bates, Edwin Merrick, Evar Swanson, George Lindquist, and Kenneth Abbott.

Sterling Officials Protest Water Rate Boost Before ICC

STERLING, (AP)—A proposed rate increase by the Northern Illinois Water Corp., was protested yesterday by Rock Falls officials before an Illinois commerce commission examiner.

Testifying at the hearing at Sterling before Bryan M. Kilgallon of Chicago, were Mayor Irving J. Weckesser, Fire Chief Robert Warner and two city attorneys, L. E. Ellison and Sam Rubin.

A commerce commission spokesman in Chicago said the proposed increase would average 30 per cent over present rates.

The officials also protested to Bryan that water supplied by the firm is rusty and that water pressure is low.

The hearing was continued to Oct. 31 in Chicago.

Truck Trailer 'Leans' on Another After Accident

A trailer from a large semi came to rest against a cattle truck this morning on Rt. 30 after it became unhitched from the cab. There were no injuries in the accident. (See accompanying story.)

None Hurt as Apple-Laden Truck Is Wrecked on Route 30

A semi-trailer truck loaded with apples went out of control on Rt. 30 early today and careened between two parked trucks at a service station. The trailer broke loose and crashed into one of the other trucks but no injuries were reported.

Willie Harris, Benton Harbor, Mich., told authorities that the trailer hitch on his truck broke as he was proceeding west on Rt. 30 near the intersection of Rt. 26. The accident threw his truck out of control and it swerved across the highway, splintered a small tree and swerved in between a parked cattle truck and a large trailer loaded with steel pipe.

Trailer Tips

The trailer tipped over into the cattle truck coming to rest at almost a 45 degree angle. The Harris truck traveled about 150 feet in a ditch on the south side of the road before swerving between the two parked trucks.

The cattle truck involved was driven by Melvin M. Freese, Wellsburg, Ia. He was on his way from Parkersburg, Ia., to Chicago with a load of hogs and cattle. None of the animals were injured since only the top of the trailer was damaged.

En Route To Iowa

Harris was on his way from Benton Harbor to Cedar Rapids. The Freese semi had pulled out of a gas station at the Victory cafe and had stopped on the highway at the time of the crash. Evester Chase, Benton Harbor, was a rider with Harris.

Sheriff Charles H. Redebaugh and State Officer John Woods investigated the accident which occurred about 3:40 a.m. Reuter's wrecking service, Dixon, righted the Harris truck after daylight.

Law Protecting Principal From Beating Invalid

CHICAGO, (AP)—A two-year-old law protecting school officials from assault by irate parents was declared unconstitutional yesterday by a criminal court judge.

Judge Daniel A. Covelli voided the jury conviction of Howard Kraay, 36, of suburban Markham, for his assault on J. Lewis Winnegarn, superintendent of the Markham public schools.

Kraay was accused of beating the school official after his son had been disciplined by Winnegarn. The jury set Kraay's fine at $100 but under the special statute could have jailed him for a year and fined him $1,000.

Judge Covelli ruled that the statute amounted to special group legislation and as such was unconstitutional. Kraay's conviction was the first under the new law.

Winnegarn has a $100,000 damage suit pending against Kraay in superior court.

Belly-Land B-36 After Nine-Man Crew Bails Out

ALBUQUERQUE, (AP)—They tried something new yesterday with the storied B-36—a belly landing—and the huge bomber came through with nothing worse than scratches.

Nine crewmen parachuted after the landing gear jammed. Three others rode the $3,500,000 ship safely to a screeching, grinding stop on a Kirtland air force base runway.

Capt. L. W. Brockwell, 31-year-old plane commander from Flanagan, Ill., said:

"Nobody ever belly-landed a B-36 before, but I felt it could be landed that way just like any other plane. But I didn't want to take any chances so I ordered the others to bail out."

Then, with the help of First Lt. M. L. Beckman, the pilot, and Second Lt. R. L. Stokum, flight engineer, he set her down. Observers called it "a beautiful landing."

Mrs. Arnold was given custody of six children. The question of support was reserved by the court for later action.

Postal Pay Hike Passes House; First Class Letter Rate Same

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Legislation giving most postal employees pay raises of $400 a year was passed today by the house and sent to the senate.

The bill passed by roll-call vote of 339 to 7.

The raises, affecting an estimated 500,000 postal workers, range as high as $800 annually for some postmasters and supervisors. Hourly workers would receive a raise of 20 cents per hour.

The estimated annual cost of the bill is $250,000,000.

Quick Action Expected

Since the senate already has passed a similar measure and today's bill was a compromise worked out by senators and house members, quick senate approval was expected.

Bills raising the pay of 1,500,000 other federal employees by an estimated $400,000,000 annually and hiking postal rates $117,000,000 were in line for final congressional approval.

Those dealing with postal rates and non-postal workers' pay were worked out by senate-house conference committees late yesterday.

First Class the Same

The postal rate increase bill follows mainly the lines of the original house measure. It contains no boost in first class letter charges. The original senate bill would have raised the cost of mailing a sealed letter from three to four cents, but that was scrapped by conferees.

But if the bill becomes law, it will cost two cents instead of a penny to mail a postcard.

No change is provided in present airmail rates.

Newspapers Hiked

Rates for second-class mail, such as newspapers and magazines, would be hiked 30 per cent over a three-year period, at the rate of 10 per cent each year over present rates. Free in-county mailing would be continued for rural papers.

The third-class mailing rate, on advertising matter and circulars, would be increased from one to one and one-half cents for each piece.

Charges for special services, such as COD, insured and special delivery mail, would be hiked enough to yield about $26,000,000 additional each year. The special delivery charge would go up to 20 cents from the present 15.

No raise is provided in parcel post rates, an interstate commerce commission order having hiked them about $100,000,000 a year on Oct. 1.

Next War Will Come to Main Street, Says Defense Leader

MIAMI, Fla., (AP)—Disagreeing with Gen. Douglas MacArthur, U. S. Civil Defense Chief Willard Caldwell says "the next war will come to Main street."

In an address at a closing session of the American Legion's 33rd convention yesterday, Caldwell added: "Now that the people are being charged with crying wolf."

Some regarded the speech as an answer to Gen. MacArthur, who Wednesday told the Legionnaires he was not one of those "who hysterically talk of American cities being laid waste" in another war.

Caldwell asserted that there are some too old to realize the concept of war has changed. When a reporter asked if he was referring to the 71-year-old deposed general, Caldwell replied: "If MacArthur is in that group, he'll just have to stay in it."

Earlier the convention adopted overwhelmingly, after a stiff floor fight, a resolution calling for a complete sweep-out of the top men in the state department.

The Legionnaires, who heard Gen. MacArthur blast the administration's foreign policy Wednesday, fell in line with his views in another resolution that called for "every possible means to bring the Korean war to a speedy and successful conclusion."

Elected Commander

Donald R. Wilson of Clarksville, W. Va., was elected the new Legion commander. In his inaugural address, he called for "aggressive Americanism, international realism and no compromise with Communism."

The Legion demanded the immediate release of Associated Press Reporter William Oatis from a Czechoslovakian prison or the severance of all diplomatic relations and immediate cessation of all trade with that Red-dominated country.

Race Track Winnings, Lush Vacations Figure in Probe Of Income Tax Collectors

WASHINGTON — (AP) — To investigations of corruption and collusion among the nation's tax collectors has been added some colorful information on lush vacations, big race track winnings and multiple bank accounts.

This data was part of the testimony heard yesterday by a house ways and means subcommittee investigating the operations of the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

Reaction to the testimony—given by four of the bureau's New York agents—was swift.

Doesn't Remember
One internal revenue agent, Mordecai Miller, who claimed inability to remember exactly how many bank accounts he had, was summarily suspended by Internal Revenue Commissioner John B. Dunlap.

Another agent—whose financial worth, by his own estimate, rose from $2,400 to $25,600 between 1946 and 1951 on a $5,000-$6,000 annual salary—was instructed to come back before the committee next Tuesday and try again to explain.

A third, to the open-mouthed reaction of lawmakers, volunteered the information he did not report some $2,000 of race track winnings in his own income tax return for 1948-49 because he was afraid it would "jeopardize my pension."

Wins Daily Double
The same agent explained a $3,000 discrepancy in his salary and his financial outgo for 1950 by a $4,400 winning wager in the daily double at Belmont park racetrack. He hit it again this year for $3,216, he testified with considerable satisfaction.

Rep. Kean (R-NJ) wanted to know more about the daily double winnings of Agent Ralph P. DeMayo, a gray-haired veteran of 38 years in the Internal Revenue Bureau.

DeMayo said "Royal Bones" and "Blue Man" won him $3,216 at Belmont this year. He produced a photostatic copy of a check from Belmont to prove it.

(However, racing records showed that neither Royal Bones nor Blue Man had figured in a daily double at Belmont Park this year. Royal Bones did not win at that track at all. Blue Man won a race last week but not in the daily double.)

It was DeMayo who said he did not report his winnings before 1950 "because I wanted to complete my 30 years in the service to get my pension."

Wealth Grows
The fourth agent to testify was 29-year-old Jack Neustadt, an ex-serviceman who started in the internal revenue bureau in 1946.

Chairman King (D-Calif.) said Neustadt's statement of financial net worth in 1946, as listed on his job application, was $2,400. He noted that Neustadt's estimate of his current net worth, given to a superior in August, was $25,000. That, King said, "warrants an explanation."

However, Neustadt refused to give the committee any information until he could discuss it with an attorney. King instructed him to get counsel and return next Tuesday.

Children Die in Fire as Father At Wife's Bedside

RICHMOND, CALIF. — (AP) — Charles Fortune returned from the hospital bedside of his wife last night and found that two of his four children had burned to death in their North Richmond home.

Richmond officials had unsuccessfully tried for two and a half hours to locate him and tell him that his son, Eddie, 19 months, and his daughter, Daisy, four months, had perished in the blaze that started while a baby sitter was on an errand at a nearby grocery store.

The grief-stricken father, fighting back tears, could stay only a few minutes at the fire-blackened tragedy scene.

Then he returned to the hospital to try to arrange for blood transfusions for his desperately ill wife, Olivia, and the harder task of deciding whether or not she should be told of the tragedy.

Western Union Named in True Bills, Report

CHICAGO — (AP) — A special grand jury investigating organized gambling in the Chicago area reportedly voted true bills yesterday naming the Western Union Telegraph Co. and 15 individuals. Reportedly named on charges of malfeasance in office growing out of gambling operations in their communities were two officials of Chicago suburbs—Erwin Konovsky, police chief of Cicero, and Elton H. Hayes, mayor of Northlake. Konovsky already is under indictment on a malfeasance charge in connection with his conduct during recent race rioting in Cicero.

Northlake is the home of Robert H. Niemeyer, 47, victim of a baseball bat beating by four hoodlums. He said he was beaten for giving information about gambling in Northlake.

The jury was reported to have voted no bills in the cases of Sheriff John E. Babb of Cook county (Chicago), his highway police chief, Patrick Tuohy, and Fred Heck, police chief of Northlake.

The Western Union Telegraph Co., was reported to have been named in two separate true bills, each charging conspiracy to disseminate horse racing information. Also reported named was John F. Scanlan, head of Midwest News Service, a racing information service to which Western Union allegedly furnished wire facilities, and four of his associates.

Ray Jones and Phillip Katz, operators of the R. and H. service, which also handled race information, were reported listed in true bills.

All those reported listed in true bills, with the exception of the village officials, are accused of conspiracy to violate gambling laws.

Five Killed in Crash of Nassau

NASSAU, BAHAMAS — (AP) — Five of the nine persons aboard a U.S. air force plane from the Cocoa, Fla., guided missile base were killed last night in a crash off Nassau.

All those aboard were military personnel. Their names were not announced, pending notification of next of kin.

A low-cost menu for lunch is one that includes tomato juice, stuffed egg salad, hot biscuits and jam and milk. Mother, as well as the youngsters in the family, should have a glass of milk at noon.

'Airplane Spin' Slayer Freed of Manslaughter

CHICAGO — (AP) — George Fabian, 16, was acquitted of manslaughter yesterday in the "airplane spin" killing of a six year old girl.

Chief Justice Thomas E. Kuczynski, who heard the case without a jury, ruled the circumstances in the death of the little girl, Yvonne Biritz, "showed misadventure."

Fabian testified that Yvonne had asked to be given an airplane spin and her head struck a rock as he was whirling her about by one hand and one foot and later both feet. The girl's body was found Aug. 30 in a hobo jungle near her home in suburban Cicero.

Senate-House Hope to Agree On Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A senate-house conference committee sought quick agreement today on how much money the United States will spend this year in helping friendly foreign nations bolster their military and economic strength against the threat of Communism.

A figure of $7,208,401,000 in new funds was set by the senate yesterday. The measure was approved 57-13 after the chamber shouted down a move to restore a five per cent cut made by its appropriations committee in the $7,482,527,000 foreign aid bill approved by the house.

Both bills re-appropriate $816,727,000 of unspent funds carried over from the previous fiscal year so that total outlays for fiscal 1952 could exceed $8,000,000,000.

The foreign aid bill is one of three big money measures remaining to be disposed of before congress quits. The adjournment target is tomorrow.

The senate starts work on one of the measures when it meets today. This is the $4,000,000,000 military construction bill, the only one of the three that has not yet passed the senate.

Sponsors of the bill hope to get it into conference with the house late in the day.

The third pending money bill is a $1,744,000,000 supplemental measure carrying funds for defense purposes, economic stabilization agencies and other departments. It is in conference.

Largest and most valuable crop produced in Kentucky is corn.

Gets Chair For Slaying Of Girl, 10

CHICAGO, (AP)—A father of three children was convicted of the sex murder of a 10-year-old girl yesterday by a jury which fixed his punishment at death in the electric chair.

The convicted slayer, George Lettrich, 37, wept when the criminal court jury of seven men and five women announced the decision. His wife, Susan, 37, cried out in court and collapsed in the arms of a relative. His mother, Mrs. Pauline Lettrich, showed no emotion.

It was the second trial for Lettrich for the slaying of Roberta Rinearson, who was found strangled alongside a lonely road near suburban Elmhurst on Dec. 17, 1948. She had been sexually abused. His first trial last May was declared a mistrial.

A motion for a new trial will be heard on Nov. 2.

Lettrich did not testify in his own defense. The state's chief evidence against him was a signed confession that he killed the Rinearson girl. He had repudiated the confession but it was admitted into evidence at his trial.

Defense attorneys said police obtained the confession through brutality and force. Lettrich's chief defense was his repudiation of the confession and the testimony of his wife and mother.

Police questioned more than 2,000 persons in seeking to find the killer of the Rinearson girl. Lettrich was first picked up Aug. 31, 1950, in connection with sex crimes against two girls. Under questioning, he signed the confession that he killed the Rinearson girl.

He was convicted last April of a charge of crime against nature involving a 10-year-old girl and was sentenced to one to 10 years in prison. He had been in the Cook county jail awaiting trial on the murder charge.

Be an Honest Eager-Beaver Is the Moral of This Tale

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK, (AP)—Once upon a time there was an eager beaver who was the pride of his beaverly. His name was Alphonse Nutria. Alphonse could gnaw down more pine trees and create more dams than any other three eager beavers his age, and he was only two years old.

Naturally he felt pretty proud of himself for helping the crowd. One day a political beaver came up to him and said:

"Son, you're a dam-fine beaver. Don't you want to accept the honorary vice-chairmanship of our club, the Better-Life-For-More-Beavers Association?"

"Well, I won't say gnaw—so I'll say yes," said Alphonse, a poor but honest beaver. "Anything that helps the other guys I'm for."

So Alphonse Nutria went out and gnawed and gnawed and gnawed more pine trees down until the streams were all dammed and the forest was full of backed up water. This water flooded the ground fodder on which the deer fed.

That cut down the number of deer. And certain hunter beings who liked to kill wild things and carry their honors home to prove they are human heroes said:

"The beavers are building so many dams they are reducing the number of deer we can shoot. Nature is therefore out of balance. We must pass a law declaring an open season on beavers. Then the more beavers we shoot, the more deer will spring up for us to shoot later."

And so the law was passed as a wild life conservation measure.

After two seasons a steady shooting of the ranks of the beavers were pretty well reduced. They held a council of their elders and approached Alphonse, still the eager beaver he had always been.

"Mr. Nutria," said a wise old conservative beaver, "we want you to join a new and exclusive club we have formed. It is called the Don't - Gnaw - A - Pine-Tree-Down-Today Association."

Alphonse thought it over and then said politely, "gnaw." He felt he had been put upon the earth to do his beaver best—and he went right on jawing down trees.

But the older beavers decided his inside reign of plenty increased their outside danger from human beings. And so they plotted against him, feeling they had to compromise in order for their own beaver children to survive.

They sent secret agents out in a whispering campaign to turn other beavers against him. "We have found out that in his youth he was a front beaver for the Better-Life-For-More-Beavers Association," they said. "That outfit would destroy us all."

Gradually they convinced the other beavers that Alphonse was a traitor whose program of prosperity was only an invitation of doom. And so they fell upon him and bit him to death—Alphonse, the true beaver.

Ever since then the world's beavers, having destroyed their honest hero, have lived at the mercy of their relentless and formidable foe, prisoners now forever of the curiosity and charity of that strange two-legged creature, man.

But the rugged young beaver growing up like to harken to the saying words of Alphonse Nutria: "Oh, my people, put your teeth into your faith. In this rough world what you stand up for and believe in will always outweigh anything you sit down to and fail to do."

Moral: You can never whip an honest beaver.

Children in many homes of colonial America were not allowed to sit at the dinner table, but stood during the entire meal.

"I start 500 calves a year on KENT CALFGO!"

Eugene Alexander, Beef Herdsman of the High Farm, Amana Colonies, Iowa, is shown here with some of his fine Kent-fed calves.

Eugene Alexander has been raising market-topping cattle for a good many years. When he talks about feeds, he says, "I feed out 500 calves a year. I need a calf starter that will get the calves started right for fast, cheaper gains later on. KENT CALFGO does exactly that. It's the first step in the Kent Beef Feeding Program we follow."

Here's What KENT CALFGO Will Do For Your Calves

- 1.... promotes greater bacterial action in the rumen — the secret of faster and more economical gains.
- 2.... supplies all the factors of milk.
- 3.... helps protect against shipping fever and other diseases.
- 4.... keeps the baby flesh which they develop from nursing their mothers.

Starting your calves on KENT CALFGO is the next best thing to another 60 to 90 days of nursing. No wonder more show feeders and commercial feeders are switching to KENT CALFGO. Despite its record of outstanding results, CALFGO is inexpensive—actually costs only about 1¢ per day more than an ordinary supplement!

See us today for a supply of KENT CALFGO.

Dukes Duel Troglio, Hall Tonight

Munson, Bruce Likely New Dixon Starters

Frosh-Soph Squad To Seek Victory No. 5 Tonight

A hard-running back named Jim Troglio and a wide-open Dixon attack are likely to greet spectators at Dixon high school football field tonight as the Dukes renew their football rivalry with Hall Township.

Nippy weather is forecast for the Dixon area tonight.

At least two new men, Ken Bruce and Jack Munson, are likely starters in the crippled Dixon lineup. Bruce will take over an end position, filling in for Jim Gorman, who is out this week because of a kidney injury suffered in the DeKalb game. Munson will get his first real test at guard as John Weitzel remains on the "doubtful starters" list because of an injured wrist.

Troglio, the Hall fullback, has averaged seven yards per carry in previous Hall games this season. Hal has a season's record of 4-1. Dixon's mark for the season is 3-2.

In the preliminary game, starting at 6 p.m. Coach Lloyd Swan will send his promising frosh-soph team after their fifth victory of the season. They have been tied once, 6-6 by Ottawa.

While Ohio travels to Bureau for a Little Eight game this afternoon, other Dixon area teams will line up this way for night games:

Amboy at Ottawa (Marquette).
Mt. Morris at Laramie.
Genoa at Ashton.
Oregon at Polo.
NORTH CENTRAL GAMES
Rochelle at DeKalb.
Ottawa at Sterling.
Geneseo at Princeton.
Mendota at Rock Falls.

Hoople Uses Shultz Law (Friday That Is) to Pick Grid Scores

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE

Old Blue
Egad! Like lions leaping upon a fallen gladiator—
Like wolves pouncing upon a mighty stag at bay—
Like footpads robbing a drunk in an alley—
Like ogres snatching candy from a babe—
That is how some of my jackal readers have been preying upon me because on a recent Saturday I chanced to pick more losers than winners for the first time in my brilliant career!

One of the more-insulting scribbles said: "Why don't you go back to picking walnuts off cakes?" Another crass person wrote: "We've got rich off your selections—betting against them!" Another vents his spleen: "Your selections are the worst since George Bernard Shaw picked Carpenter to beat Dempsey!"

Thus you behold me swirling in a Johnstown flood of insults from those craven mites who lurk in the shadows waiting for the leader to weaken.

But I am not weakening, and my strength is as the strength of 10. I will confuse my tormentors this very week by picking a perfect card. Har-rumph!

I've found a new system, by the way, sure-fire, consistent and supreme.

It is the SHULTZ LAW OF THE MATHEMATICAL PROGRESSION OF AUTOMOBILE NUMBERS.

TV Ring Fans to See Old-Timers Battle Tonight

NEW YORK, (AP)—A bout that was booked three years ago finally will be held tonight at St. Nicholas arena. It brings together Joe Baksi, strapping, one-time heavyweight contender from Kilmont, Pa., and pudgy Gino Buonvino of Italy, in a ten-rounder.

In 1948 both were among the topflight heavyweights. Now they're just a couple of old fighters trying to get back into the money.

Baksi was forced out of the original match in Madison Square Garden because of an ankle injury.

Lee Savold, then on the comeback path himself, subbed for Baksi on 24-hour notice, flattened the Italian in one round and went on to win British recognition as heavyweight king and a big money shot with Joe Louis.

Baksi and Buonvino have had one fight each this year, scoring decision victories over minor foes.

The 9 p.m. (CST) bout will be telecast by NBC and broadcast by ABC.

Help Comes to Klipa ...

HUNTINGTON, W. VA.—(AP)—The coach figured George Klipa was a find. Last year he sparked the freshman football squad, and he was figured to carry a lot of weight on the varsity this fall as a sophomore.

He was in the starting lineup for Marshall College's first game this year at Eastern Kentucky. The first play left him flat on his back. He was carried off the field and rushed to the hospital with a broken leg.

A few days later, Gangrene developed. The doctors tried everything, then were left with no choice. Two days ago his leg was amputated four inches above the ankle.

The news spread like wildfire, first around the campus, then through Huntington, and then throughout the state.

The idea of a George Klipa fund sprang from many sources. Yesterday it was channeled into a concerted drive.

Those interested met yesterday at noon and organized. They elected three members of a five-man board of trustees to look after the fund.

Before dusk last night, $1,000 was in the kitty. Most of the contributions came unsigned.

The trustees made this plan: It isn't going to be a drive for a lot of cash to dump into Klipa's lap. The money will go for Klipa's education—nothing else—and it should take the husky sophomore as far as he wants to go.

Oregon Hopes to Spoil Polo's Gala Homecoming Tonight

POLO—A gala Homecoming crowd will be on hand here tonight hoping to cheer Coach Dick Folk's Marcos to a new Blackhawk conference title.

Coach Pat Holland's Oregon Hawks, currently undefeated with a 2-0 Blackhawk rating, offer the opposition in this important battle. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

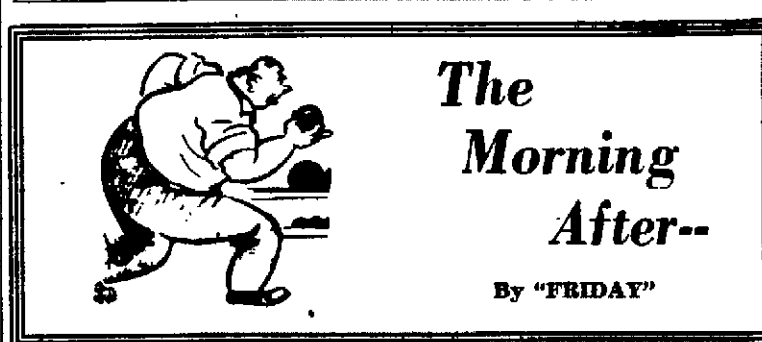

A pre-game pep meeting and parade was scheduled for this afternoon and Homecoming festivities will end with a dance following the game tonight.

At the dance, co-queens, two seniors from a group of five candidates, will be crowned by football co-captains George Wilson and Ray Buisker.

Polo will be seeking its 17th straight football victory tonight as well as its second straight Blackhawk conference title.

Polo was last defeated in 1949, when Oregon sprang a 20 to 13 upset to snap a 13-game Marco winning streak. Oregon was the Blackhawk conference champion in 1949.

There will be no frosh-soph game tonight. Blackhawk conference frosh-soph games are played on Monday nights following varsity games.

Ray Carson had a six-pin difference in his loss of 122-124. The extra practice the boys received in the Shaw Bowling league is already paying off. Last night's game was a 300 series. When Earl James, where Ted was scheduled to give Dick a lesson in bank pool. While he was here Dick also had time to take a lesson in three-cushion from Wayne Williams. After sponsoring Lenihan at the Recreation here and also at Amboy for several years, Dick had his sponsoring down to a ladies team at home.

After receiving his instruction in billiards Dick remarked he hadn't had so much fun since he watched John "Butch" Mitchell bowl in his stocking feet on his Recreation five of several years ago. Dick's 138-147-156. The queerest shot of the night, or for several nights for that matter, was when Dick shot a 300 series. He turned in a 303 total, picking up the 5-7 and 5-10 splits with ease during the session, and in Amboy Carl Blasides just missed his much sought 300 series. When Ted only nine pins short with 491. And speaking of Amboy Ted and Esther Hunt and Dick and Mary Lenihan dropped in at Earl James, where Ted was scheduled to give Dick a lesson in bank pool. Basketball Back As All-Stars, Royals Battle
CHICAGO —(AP)—A group of last year's college basketball players, led by three Big Ten stars, play the Rochester Royals tonight in the Chicago Herald American's 12th annual All-Star game.

NOTES FROM A RAINY THURSDAY

Thursday afternoon traditionally is the "soft" practice day for high school football squads with games Friday night. But yesterday was an especially light Thursday for area football squads as coaches decided it wasn't worth the trouble (and the laundry bill) to take their boys out in the down-pour.

WE STOPPED in Polo for a few minutes and found Coach Dick Folk using the wet afternoon to polish up the plays he hopes to defeat Oregon with tonight.

Here in Dixon, Coach Sam Owens put his boys to work mulling their football shoes and directed other preparations for tonight's contest against Hall.

IF NOTHING ELSE, Owens could feel he gained one thing by the afternoon of football inactivity. He was sure that no more of his boys would be injured before game time—at least on the football field.

Dixon high school cross-country Coach Marvin (Dutch) Winger had to call off a scheduled intra-squad meet because of the rain. We found him in the dressing room mapping out the seven-man squad he will take to Princeton Saturday for the NCIC conference meet. Here is the list he made: ROGER HARDEN, Darwin Toms, Lou Wiggington, Ivan Adams, Don Lovett, Don Wiggington and Art Mueller.

Winger pegged Geneseo, winner at the recent Sterling invitational meet, as the squad to beat at Princeton.

"THEY HAVE TOO much depth for the rest of us," he said.

Sports Editor, Mitch Mitavetz of the DeKalb Chronicle, liked our delicious ravings about his Barbs of last Saturday so well that he reprinted most of what we said in Wednesday's paper for the benefit of the home folks.

AND ANOTHER COLLEAGUE, Harry Quilter, of the Ottawa Republican-Times, called yesterday to say that the Ottawa lightweight team, which was tied 6-6 by Dixon, trampled Hall Township 38 to 0 last week and in so doing had some 165 yards assessed against it in penalties.

"Every time I looked the referee was marching off some more yards," Harry said.

Big Leaguers Need Tax Help Says Pitcher

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Fred die Hutchinson, Detroit Tiger pitcher, suggested today that baseball players—athletes with short careers—should be given special income tax treatment.

"There should be some allowance for ball players similar to depreciation on a structure or machine," he said.

Hutchinson told a house judiciary subcommittee that the average major league career is about five years. He said players were trained solely for the game. Some relief should be given them from taxes, he said, because their biggest income lasts for only a few years.

Asks Deduction
A player should be allowed to deduct for his maintenance when he is away from his permanent home with his family in the city where his major league team is based, Hutchinson said.

The subcommittee is trying to determine whether baseball violates anti-trust laws.

One of the points in question is the reserve clause under which a player is tied to the club that owns his contract so long as he plays ball.

Hutchinson, the American league players' representative on the executive council of major league baseball, favors it.

Reserve Clause Needed
"In my opinion the reserve clause is a necessary and reasonable provision for the preservation of organized baseball," he said.

Hutchinson said the minor leagues could not survive without continuation of the reserve clause. And, he added, "I do not believe that the big leagues would last much longer than the minor in the event the clause was removed."

As a rule players have been treated fairly, he said, and paid their value to the clubs.

Karras Faces McElhenny as Illini Travel

SEATTLE, (AP)—It's Karras against McElhenny, O'Connell against Rocky, four rounds to a finish—and it isn't fighting, but football.

When Illinois, ranked eighth nationally, tangles with once-beaten Washington tomorrow the stands here will be jammed to capacity. The 55,000 fans have been attracted mainly by the double duel pitting two of the nation's finest running backs and a pair of its most promising sophomore T-formation quarterbacks.

Johnny Karras against Hugh McElhenny; Tommy O'Connell vs. Dean Rocky. A year ago Karras had his biggest day of a big 1950 season against Washington at Champaign, carrying the ball 25 times and gaining 183 yards.

McElhenny established a new Pacific Coast conference record by gaining 1,107 yards from scrimmage last year. He has scored seven touchdowns this year, including one 100-yard punt return against Southern California. Karras also has reeled off seven six-point gallops.

O'Connell, a new find for Coach Ray Eliot, has completed 11 passes in 19 tries for 79 yards. Rocky, boosted to No. 1 when injuries benched two other Washington quarterbacks, has completed 26 out of 46 tosses for 314 yards. The team that comes up with the sharpest defense against these double-barreled attacks should be on top at the finish.

NO OPERATION: ALLIE

NEW YORK —(AP)—If Allie Reynolds has his way, his good—albeit rattling—right elbow will continue sounding like a pair of castanets next season. The Chief, first pitcher in American league history to hurl two no-hit games in one season, has decided not to have his elbow operated on for removal of some loose bone chips. For the past month, he has been planning the surgery.

Youth Admits Slaying of Foster Mother

DUNEDIN, FLA. —(AP)—A youth taken into custody here confessed he shot, beat and knifed his foster mother to death in Minnesota. Police Chief Eugene Sheets said last night.

The chief said Robert S. Pett, 18, signed a written confession he killed Mrs. Mary R. Pett, 52, because she nagged him and wanted him to go to church.

Pett and a companion, Reginald Frost, 16, were picked up by Patrolman Robert Clark. Chief Sheets said Frost had no knowledge of Pett's crime until the boys reached Dunedin.

The police chief said Pett, who has waived extradition, told this story:

Monday afternoon he took eight sleeping pills in an attempt to kill himself. During the night he awoke, got a .22 caliber rifle and went to his foster mother's bedroom.

When he aimed the rifle at her and pulled the trigger, the gun only "snapped." He put a bullet in it and shot. He beat her with a hickory stick he said he had kept for that purpose. Then he stabbed her with a butcher knife.

Pett told officers he had been thinking of killing himself or his foster mother for two years.

Pays License for Bingo, Now Fined For Breaking Law

AKRON, O. —(AP)— Now that the city is sending John Sica to jail for operating a bingo parlor, Sica wants the city to return $8,000 it collected from him in bingo admission taxes.

The 32-year-old Sica made the demand yesterday on City Finance Director John Currie. It came after he was fined $1,000 in municipal court and sentenced to six months in jail for promoting a lottery.

His attorney said Sica is "now asked to pay an additional $1,000 for doing things that he paid your office $8,000 for admission to do."

The admission taxes were collected prior to last April when bingo was outlawed here and in most places throughout the state.

Hope Dimming For Return of Kidnaped Baby

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., (AP)—The trail of the "woman in white" grew cold today, and hope dimmed for the safe return of a baby who disappeared from his hospital crib six days ago.

Police ran down two leads yesterday in their search for the mysterious woman and reported both were false.

A former employee of the Beatty Mental hospital at nearby Westville had been sought. She and her husband, an Indian factory worker, had been missing from their Michigan City home.

However, a supervisor at Beatty hospital received a letter from the woman postmarked Saturday, the day the baby disappeared, in Sioux City, Ia., 550 miles away.

A registered nurse with a baby was detained for a short time in Chicago, but it was established quickly that she was taking the child from a Hammond, Ind., hospital to an infant's home in Indianapolis.

The missing baby, Lawrence James Lyons, who was born Oct. 9, disappeared from his crib in the fourth floor nursery at St. Anthony hospital. The search for a woman in white was based on a report by a machinist, John Boehlein, that he saw such a woman carry a baby out of the nursery.

Police planned to give lie detector tests to the parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Lyons, to Lyons' 19-year-old daughter by a previous marriage and to neighbors and friends of the family. They said the purpose was to "fully corroborate everything we have learned so far in investigation."

When a recipe calls for toasted blanched almonds, the nuts should have their skins removed first, then be browned lightly in the oven.

Judge Says He'll Quash Two Counts in Cicero Indictments

CHICAGO, (AP)—A judge said last night he will throw out at least two counts in an indictment against four persons in connection with last summer's Cicero race riots.

Judge Wilbert F. Crowley, of Criminal court, told lawyers and newsmen he has already decided to not allow two of three conspiracy counts in the indictment.

Judge Crowley said that by Monday he will decide whether to allow the third count of the indictment returned by a Cook county grand jury. It charges the four persons with "conspiracy to incite a riot."

Rioting broke out in the all-white West Side suburb July 12 when a Negro family attempted to move into an apartment. National guardsmen ordered to the scene by Gov. Stevenson restored order.

Judge Crowley said the counts which he will not allow are:

1. Conspiracy to damage the selling price and rental value of property near the apartment, which was wrecked by rioters.

The four named in the indictment—none of whom took part in the actual rioting—are: Mrs. Camille De Rose, former owner of the building where the riot took place, Charles Edwards, Negro, the building agent; Att. "Charles C. Adams, Negro, owner in trust of the property, and Norman Silverman, arrested near the riot scene for passing out literature which police labelled Communist.

In another indictment returned by the grand jury, Erwin Konovsky, Cicero police chief, was charged with malfeasance in office.

Mac Challenges Truman to Deny Red China Charge

NEW YORK —(AP)— Gen. Douglas MacArthur challenged President Truman last night to declare that Red China will never be allowed to take over Formosa or a United Nations seat.

The general's statement was in rebuttal to the president's answer to a speech made by MacArthur Wednesday, charging that some American leaders had had a "secret plan" to admit Red China to the U.N. and give her Formosa.

The president said yesterday that MacArthur's remarks were not based on fact, and that the general knew they were not.

In reply, MacArthur said here that "President Truman habitually uses the technique of personal invective in rebutting criticism."

Compton Women Plan Auxiliary Member Drive

COMPTON—The Brooklyn unit of the American Legion Auxiliary met Monday at the Legion hall. Helen Beemer, Americanism chairman, announced that November will be "Americanism Appreciation Month."

"We ought to appreciate America more than we do," Mrs. Beemer stated. Special attention is to be given each week in November, these being devoted to religion, education, economics, and government.

A card was read announcing a "Caravan" to be held Nov. 2 in Dixon. This is a school of instruction for auxiliary members. Luncheon reservations are to be in by Oct. 29.

The program was introduced by Lulu Richardson. Ann Archer, accompanied on the piano by Elizabeth Weiler, sang. A clarinet solo was presented by Donna Lee Bettner accompanied by Catherine Rhoads.

Miss Lillian Ehrens, 13 district membership chairman, spoke on "Increasing Membership." "We need our members," Miss Ehrens stated. "Like a mechanic, if we don't have the tools, we can't do the job."

Lulu Richardson, membership chairman, had announced that the unit now has 49 members and the goal is 54.

Any eligible woman or girl is invited to join. Girls up to six years old can join the "Tiny Tots" and those from six to 18 are in the junior auxiliary.
